Fremont, CA — The Fremont Open Studios event is back for its second year, following a successful inaugural launch that showcased 15 local studios. This year, the event aims to double its reach with up to 30 participating studios, inviting the community to explore a vibrant array of artistic talent.

Fremont Open Studios is a self-guided tour powered by an easy-to-use Google Maps app available at fremontopenstudios.com. This innovative tool provides seamless navigation to participating studios, allowing attendees to curate their own art experiences with ease. The event's website has been enhanced to include expanded artist profiles and self-moderated galleries showcasing the work of local creatives. Beyond the event dates, the site serves as a year-round resource, offering public access to artist contact information and archived galleries from past participants.

Fremont Open Studios is sponsored by the Fremont Art Association and Fremont Creates, and is a key feature of the month-long Fremont Creates Festival celebrating local arts and culture. This festival highlights the richness of Fremont's creative community and fosters connections between artists and art enthusiasts.

Why Attend Fremont Open Studios?

- Explore a wide variety of art styles and mediums from local artists.
- Meet the artists behind the work and gain insight into their creative processes.
- Support the local arts community by purchasing directly from the studios.

Join us this April as we celebrate the creativity and talent that make Fremont a hub for artistic expression. Whether you're an art lover, collector, or curious explorer, Fremont Open Studios offers something for everyone.
